

The Sun-Herald Domain ON SUNDAY

December 16, 2007

THE SUN-HERALD December 16, 2007

5+

marketplace
What's new in the world of design and decoration

COMPILED BY HARRIET UPJOHN Email home@sunherald.com.au

Baby grand

Add some extra sparkle this Christmas with this miniature battery-powered LED chandelier that's sure to appeal to princesses big and small. Made of sturdy plastic and measuring just 12 centimetres high, it comes with a long cord and adaptor. $31.95. For stockists, phone Independence Studios, (02) 9905 7988.

Dreamscape

If you ever have difficulty getting to sleep, the cool designs on these limited edition screenprinted cotton pillowcases could keep you amused for hours as you try to work out why they're titled 'All you need in life'. From a range by Third Drawer Down, they're $45 a pair, from Chee Soon & Fitzgerald, (02) 9360 1031.

Cover story

The new Paperchase range of journals, diaries, iPod covers, pens and photo albums features multicoloured stripes, funky paisley patterns and sleek monochrome graphics. iPod Nano jacket, $25.45, and pen, $3.90. From Borders. See www.borders.com.au.

Three, two, one...

Blast off to some sizzling summer fun with this compact 30-centimetre barbecue that's small enough to take anywhere. The Mini Fun BBQ is made of steel and comes in red, pink, green and blue. $59.95. For stockists, phone (02) 8755 1500.

Make a date Not only does this zoo calendar win hands down for originality, the kids will love it too. Assembling the set of six animals from a cardboard flatpack is child's play and each creature features a different month on each side. $19.50, from Paper2, (02) 9318 1121.

Mod icons Learn how to spot the design classics among all the tatt with this illustrated guide to modern and contemporary furniture. If the names Le Corbusier, Arne Jacobsen and Philippe Starck don't already mean something to you, they soon will. Vintage Furniture, by Fay Sweet, $59.95 (Cameron House).

Bathing beauty On a crowded beach, this colourful design shouldn't be too hard to spot. Made of cotton velour with a bold hibiscus print and cotton tassels, the Aloha towel is from Sunny's new summer range. $49.95 at David Jones or see www.sunnylife.com.au.

