

1 The Mizu Island Freestanding Bath in the Hackett bathroom is from the Reece range. There is no requirement that Reece products must be used to enter the competition but this bathroom is solely fitted with Reece products.

2 The double heads in the shower are activated separately so one or both can be used.

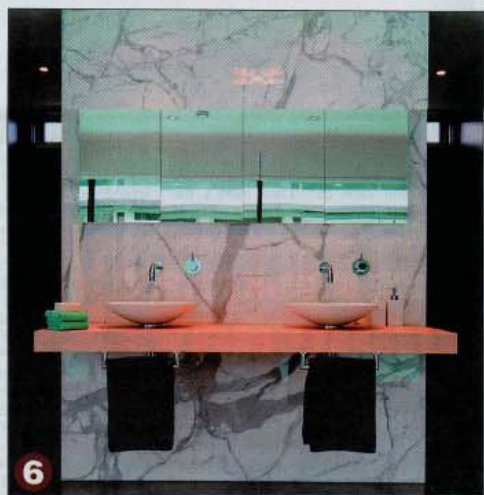

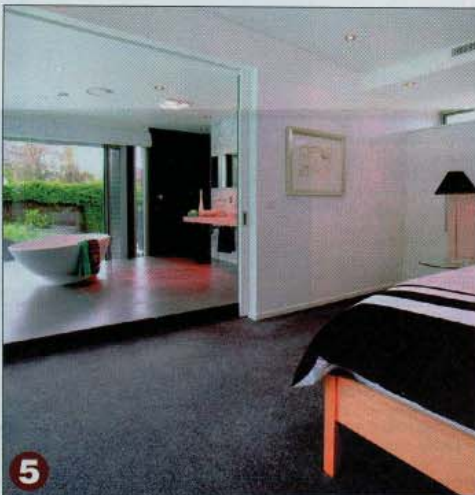

3 The recessed shelf in the wall of the bathroom in the Hackett house has been tiled using the mosaic tiles from inside the shower. It is used as a display shelf for buddha statues and candles.

4 The view from the Forrest bathroom over the back garden and swimming pool. There are shutters which can be pulled down to cover the glass walls for privacy.

5 This bathroom encapsulates one of the most current trends in ensuite bathrooms by combining the bedroom and the ensuite into the one space.

6 The marble wall in the Forrest bathroom acts as a feature but is also functional in shielding the shower and toilet and bidet.
