

Seat yourself

Floor cushions from SunnyLife provide casual and fun seating options >> outdoor furniture is moving in the same direction with more sophisticated and comfortable styles popping up.

"Outdoor furniture has almost become a household commodity", says Frank Novembre, managing director of Domo Collections.

"As people are starting to spend more time outdoors, the furniture used is becoming a more permanent fixture of the garden, rather than something that is brought out when it's required."

Dining tables are getting larger as people start to use their back yards for not just