Hello Dolly toolkit

Kyle Minogue's Charlene Robinson knew her way around a tool or two. The Neighbours character was as handy with a spanner as any of the Erinsborough blokes, and looked pretty in pink – and so will you with the Hello Dolly 30-piece toolkit. Designed by women for women, Hello Dolly is a range of DIY and gardening tools, made smaller and a little lighter to better fit a woman's size and strength. These stylish tools will bring out the handywoman in every girl.

Available nationally at David Jones and independent retailers, and valued at $89.95, the Hello Dolly toolkit on offer includes a 20-in-1 screwdriver, 3-in-1 level, hammer, utility knife, 6" adjustable spanner, 6.5" blunt-nose pliers, 3m measuring tape, assorted hardware (nails, screws, picture hooks), scissors and a slimline pink case.

Ecosilk bags

Have you ever wondered why reusable shopping bags lack style and colour? And why "green" items are often offered only in green, black or brown? Well, things are set to change with environmentally-conscious, fashion-conscious Ecosilk bags.

Made of durable and recyclable parachute silk, the lightweight bags (RRP $6.50) can hold up to 14 kilograms each. A range of 17 striking colours is on offer including apple, aqua, peacock, jacaranda and plum. Ecosilk bags are washable, quick drying and easy to store.

Seven lucky readers can shop in style with prize packs that include six Ecosilk bags stored in an Ecosilk drawstring bag. Each prize pack is worth $42.60.

Visit the Ecosilk website for your nearest stockist: www.ecosilkbags.com.au.
